- 31 July. At about 6:30 p.m., no aircraft were observed. At 7 p.m., 7 or 8 B-29s approached individually from the west and landed at the field. They then taxied, from the western edge along the hangars on the southern edge, to a truck which was parked at the southeastern corner of the field. There, the planes stopped for some time while their propellers continued running. One or two men of the truck went up to the individual aircraft and spoke with the pilot who opened their cabin. Afterwards, the planes taxied back to the take-off point and took off heading west. About 15 minutes after the last
